From Pre-History to World War Two, we offer a range of interactive cross curricular workshops to really help your pupils engage with the past. All of the workshops focus on local history and are led by our Learning Officer, who has over ten years of experience of working with schools. So you can sit back, and enjoy the workshop with your class. We are currently offering our workshops as outreach sessions that keep to social distancing guidelines. We will be in contact with you when our workshops can take place safely within the museum. We have also added new craft and outdoor workshops for you and your class to enjoy!
